

Abstract

The invention starts with a crankshaft arrangement, especially for a windshield wiper system, in which a shaft (10) is connected to a crank (12) so as to drive it.

It is proposed that the crank (12) be connected to the shaft (10) via a structural part (16). In addition, a structural part (16) for a crankshaft arrangement is proposed.

(Figure 1)